Please let's have money talk on Saturday I need to do all the maths from all the different bank accounts it's not a quick job thanks 9:38

I will be making it my priority but I can't have the full until all the maths are done I'll be fully on it after work 9:42

I'll probably be upstairs in the office this evening then 9:50

Sorting out all of that 9:51

Ok that's fine but I just want to talk about mortgage and joint account. Debt and house purchases are separate and we can have that when you're ready to but I need us to get on the same page with the joint account and mortgage before the new month starts so let's see the two conversations if that's ok 9:52

basically
- your house purchases we can talk about on Saturday when you're ready
- mortgage and joint account is all I want to discuss this evening. This can't wait for you to do all your accounts as the month is about to roll over 9:59

No sorry I want to finalise all the accounts and money owed before talking 9:59

they are separate things though Irene and it's now coming into the 4th month of mortgage 10:02

I'll pay the mortgage 10:00 and you've been happily spending money from the joint account but not putting any money in 10:02

and if we don't agree that mortgage and joint account come above anything else every single month without any question then we can't talk about anything else 10:02

I can't discuss it all day though, I just want 20 minutes of your time before we discuss your purchases 10:04

anyway, have a good day 10:04

Meet me half way and let's chat tomorrow. I'll be upstairs tonight so if you want to go out do so as barely be around 10:24

ok let's talk tomorrow then yeah that sounds like a good compromise 10:26

what are you doing today/gonna be doing this evening? 10:26

Accounts 10:25

ah ok 10:28

thought you might have got more work extension 🙄 10:28

No no 10:39

How much is BT and which day of the month is the payment? 12:27

Please send me the latest internet bill for record 13:25

So you confirm you're not willing to take on anything despite our income differences right? 13:41

ok 13:47

wow you literally transfer £9 back into your account 15:57

I haven't said anything, I'm just waiting for you to be willing to agree to what is absolutely critical to pay and must be paid on the day 50:50 and what is "owed" between us. Until this is agreed upon I'm not willing to discuss any other agreements. We are about to be in the 4th month and this not being agreed is a major thing for me that has to be dealt with above anything else. Until then we won't know what I'm happy to agree to. It's very important to me that this is agreed upon and understood before absolutely any other conversation can happen. 13:45 well...

1. I dont have the joint account connected to uber eats so if i did i would have paid for the oil for the fryer with the joint account
2. i transferred 9 because there wasn't enough for the order.
3. you happily spend on the joint account and yet you dont even put any money in it so its all my money and i think its pretty fucking rich you are even using it at all frankly because you are in effect just spending my money. So i dont think you have a leg to stand on 😂

maybe you can see my frustration as it seems you just spend my money but when i spend my money its a problem for you 😂 16:01
